

EXPLORE THE FUTURE OF EVERYTHING

We are thrilled to announce that National Geographic has once again joined forces with The Wall Street Journal to offer an extraordinary journey dedicated to exploring the future of our planet. As a past traveler with National Geographic and The Wall Street Journal, we wanted to give you an early look at the latest offering from this exciting partnership—The Future of Everything: Exploring Global Innovation by Private Jet.

Soar across the globe on a 24-day expedition to discover unique perspectives on the convergence of the past, present, and future in wild places and lively cities alike. In addition to the three experts joining us for the entirety of the journey, we'll be accompanied by hosts Susan Goldberg, editor in chief of National Geographic magazine, and Gerard Baker, editor in chief of The Wall Street Journal. We'll also meet a range of experts from each of these storied organizations on the ground, in intriguing destinations from Seoul to Samarqand, Uzbekistan.

Learn more about this exciting new expedition below, and be sure to check our website in early 2019, when our partnership will launch five new land trips to intriguing destinations, including South Africa, Israel and Palestine, China, South Korea, and Colombia.
